MEDITERRANEAN WARMTH

Among hills of vineyards and pines, to the west of the coastal mountains, the old oak writes the passage of time on its bark. Under its shade, the tempranillo grape ripens slowly, achieving optimal conditions to make our Gran Roble, a wise and honest wine that, after a long barrel ageing, accumulates all the knowledge and flavour of a unique and singular setting.

Pairing: dried fruit-stuffed partridges in wine sauce

Bright Picota-cherry in colour with soft orange reflections. Intense aromas of red and black fruit (strawberry, redcurrant and dried fig), dill and spices (white pepper and liquorice) which blend with the roasted aromas of ageing (wood and toffee caramel). Balsamic recollections of eucalyptus. On the palate, it is soft and sweet, with a long, slightly bitter aftertaste.
